Gen. Ridgway Agrees To Panmunjom For Truce Talks, But Balks At Making Munsan Neutral

TOKYO—(Tuesday)—(AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway agreed Monday to the Panmunjom area as a site for fresh Korean cease-fire talks, but disagreed with a red proposal to extend the old Kaesong neutral zone to include Munsan, site of the allied truce camp.

Instead, in a brief message to the Chinese and Korean red commanders, the United Nations commander suggested a small neutral area around Panmunjom, "with Kaesong, Munsan and the roads to Panmunjom Kaesong and Munsan free from attack."

Panmunjom is a tiny roadside village six miles east of Kaesong and 12 road miles northwest of Munsan.

Will Confer Wednesday

Ridgway did not mention a further red proposal that both sides be responsible for policing the neutral zone.

He said he would send his liaison officers to Panmunjom Wednesday at 10 a.m. (7 p.m. Tuesday, CST), to discuss the details with the communists.

How the red leaders would react was problematical.

Aside from the neutrality and policing questions, they have insisted in the past that the full armistice negotiating teams meet to create "appropriate machinery" for resuming the conferences.

ROKs Get Into Act

Ridgway, in turn, has insisted that liaison officers settle all the technicalities before the main negotiators meet again.

Meanwhile, the South Koreans got into the act. Pyun Yung Tai, South Korean foreign minister, issued a statement saying the red suggestion to enlarge the neutral zone would extend "the red sanctuary within South Korea."

The South Korean government spokesman, said such an extension "would be dangerous and we don't like it."

Nevertheless, the latest exchange of messages was the nearest the opposing sides have come to agreement since the reds broke off the conference at Kaesong Aug. 23.

Lincoln Man On The Street Is Rooting For The Giants In This World Series

If the New York Giants win the World Series, 8.3 per cent of the people in the Lincoln vicinity will be disappointed, 75 per cent will be happy and 16.7 per cent won't give a hoot.

At least that is the indication given in a brief poll taken on Oct. 1st.

Expressing hope for a Yankee victory was George R. Fisher of Falls City. "I sort of liked the Yankees all along," he said, and "the Giants just don't appeal to me."

Two men said they had no preference, Donald Habert, 2101 E.

In the doubtful bill for Nebraska were Lincoln air base, $29,451,000; Hastings naval ammunition depot, $20,298,400; Offutt air force base, Omaha, $19,063,000; Sioux ordnance depot, Sidney, $809,100; and army map service, Omaha, $260,000.

The board rejected 14 bids on 5,000 acres of land appraised at $46,375 on which the bonus bids were only $5,088. The board was of the opinion that higher bids could be obtained at a resale. Reports from the counties indicated that there appeared to be agreements among bidders not to bid against one another.

The rejected "tricks" included seven in Garden county and two each in Morrill, Kimball and Keith counties and one in Banner.

Findings Considered

The board considered the findings of the three judge federal court panel in Omaha Saturday which refused to issue an order temporarily restraining the board from approving the leases.

The leases were cancelled when the state Supreme court ruled unconstitutionality a law which would have given lease holders automatic renewals at expiration if they desired and had not violated terms of the lease.

The leases were cancelled when the state Supreme court ruled unconstitutional a law which would have given lease holders automatic renewals at expiration if they desired and had not violated terms of the lease.

The committee observed that the estimates had been "hastily made and were to some degree excessive." The entire program, it added, could be financed at a lower figure "by more careful review and better management."

Both houses of congress, however, had authorized exactly the same construction a month ago. The money was to be appropriated in another bill. It was the money bill at which the appropriations committee balked Monday.

Groups interested in the welfare of the schools protested that the land is a trust for the schools and that their interests should come before those seeking to profit by getting use of the land at rates below what was being paid for use of private owned lands.

Sen. Clyde Cretzinger, Paxton, sought to get a bill through the 1947 legislature making it mandatory that leases be offered at their expiration to the highest bidder. A number of members of the legislature were owners of leases and succeeded in having the bill passed.

The following session, Sen. Cretzinger continued his fight by seeking sale of the school lands pointing out that the money realized if placed at interest would bring more revenue to the schools than they were getting from leases.

Ineligible To Serve

At that session an attorney general's opinion became public which held that lease holders were ineligible to serve in the legislature and there was a rush to transfer leases to other members of the family.

Meanwhile, Private Coleman's body has been taken to Spencer, Neb., where services will be held. Survivors, besides the Lincoln sister, are his wife, Hazel, Coleman Bluffs, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coleman of Spencer.

Defense Attorney J. J. Marx asked that a $1,000 bond be set instead of the $2,500 one.

Wagener argued that though the homicide was without malice, the end result was the same. He recommended that a $2,500 bond be set. Judge White agreed with Wagener. Kroese posted the bond.

Miss Boehm Is Impressive After European Piano Study

By RAY SCHAUMBERG

An audience that nearly filled the student union ballroom to capacity Monday night was visibly impressed by the pianist's tour de force displayed by Miss Mary Louise Boehm.

In a scholarship concert sponsored by the University of Nebraska chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, woman's national music fraternity, Miss Boehm skillfully covered the gamut of classical piano music ranging from Bach to Ravel.

Miss Boehm's study abroad under such musical notables as Robert Casadesus and Walter Giesecking has to some extent improved her interpretive ability at the piano forte. Her technique and masterful command of the keyboard are unchanged.

The Bach C apricello, with which Miss Boehm opened her recital, was the best played selection of the program. In the first two movements, the Arioso and the Fugue, Miss Boehm was slow in warming up. But the remaining four movements of the selection possessed the necessary vigor to bring the music to life.

The Alla Marcia and the Fugue were especially well done. Miss Boehm plays Bach as it should be played, with a lot of energy but with sensitive restraint.

Difficult Selection

For her second selection, Miss Boehm chose one of Beethoven's most difficult and most misinterpreted sonatas, the Opus 110 Sonata in A flat. This was written by a man who was at the peak of his creative genius, but the music is still that of a pure classicist which, after all, was Beethoven.

The magnificent Arioso movement was somewhat marred by the performer's unwillingness to state the chord changes occurring in the left hand more strongly. She favored the moving legato melody and the lovely subtle changes of tonality under the melody were quite lost.

Following the intermission, Miss Boehm continued her recital by playing two exquisite Opus 90 Impromptus of Schubert, number 2 in E Flat and number 3 in G Flat. Two selections by Brahms closed the third section, a Capriccio, Opus 76, No. 8, and an Intermezzo, Opus 118, No. 2.

Seldom Used

To close, Miss Boehm chose as un piece de resistance the suite Gaspard de la Nuit by Maurice Ravel. The suite, based on poems by Aloysius Bertrand, is so difficult that it is not often programmed.

Miss Boehm's masterful technique was completely equal to the tremendous difficulties of the suite. Each note in the flashing chromatic passages was as clear cut as a crystal ornament.

But her temperament is much more suited to the playing of Bach, Mozart and Haydn.

Following the program, Miss Boehm played as an encore Debussy's lovely, sparkling, changing Reflets dans L'eau. And it was as perfect as it was dispassionate.

Gary Campbell Slightly Better With Each Day

Gary Campbell, the 10-year-old Ashland youth injured three and one-half weeks ago when a teenager's car struck the pony he was riding, "is getting a little better every day," according to his doctor Monday night.

Gary, at Bryan Memorial hospital, started to recover from the concussion over the weekend, the physician said, and was able to recognize his parents for the first time.

The skull fracture he received will take "about six weeks" to mend properly.

Frail Premier Says England Still Bent On 'Pillaging' Oil

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—(AP)—Exhausted after a long plane ride, Iran's frail Premier Mohammed Mossadegh arrived Monday with fresh charges that the British want to continue "pillaging" Iran's oil resources.

He immediately went into seclusion on the 16th floor of the New York hospital in preparation for bedside conferences later this week on the British-Iranian oil dispute. He flew from Tehran to present his country's case to the security council, which is expected to meet Thursday.

Mossadegh issued a statement at the Idlewild airport in which he recalled to Americans their fight against the British in the War of Independence.

He said there are great similarities between the present-day efforts of the Iranians and the efforts of American ancestors "to release their homeland from the fetters of economic and political imperialism."

University Sets Child's Speech, Hearing Class

The University of Nebraska this week will begin special training for pre-school age children with speech and hearing difficulties.

Group and individual work will be held from 10 to 12 a.m. daily in the university's speech and hearing laboratories in the Temple building, Dr. John Wiley, director of the laboratories, said. Supervisor is Miss Lucile Cyprasse and Mrs. Madge Miller is group instructor.

The pre-school work was started on an experimental basis this summer, and of the ten handicapped children enrolled, five started kindergarten in September.

Group activities include singing and action and speech games. Daily tea parties help children form better speech habits in real-life situations. In addition, children with hearing losses receive training using amplification. Parents will meet with Dr. Wiley regularly for discussion and suggestions.

The University of Nebraska is one of the few schools in the country offering this type of service. The training is made possible by the co-operative efforts of the Lincoln Parents Council for Cerebral Palsy, the Nebraska Society for Crippled Children, the Lincoln Junior League.

University seniors and graduate students interested in special education gain valuable practical experience by helping with the children.

Additional Watershed Request Out

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The house appropriations committee rejected Monday a request by the agriculture department for $1,475,000 additional money for 15 watershed land treatment and improvement projects in Kansas and Nebraska.

It did, however, recommend $186,800 be provided to speed up surveys in these and other critical watersheds in the Missouri and upper Mississippi basins.

The council was told that the

Three-Fold Nature of Man

By J. Gordon Roberts

A reader offers the following quotations taken from a lecture to illustrate the "new religion" or "new paganism" as the reader describes such doctrine:

"Contemporary man holds to materialism."

"Like the amoeba, we, too, are pragmatists."

My correspondent is not satisfied with the foregoing as a substitute for moral law. To me the "new paganism" represents more than a machine.

"Difference lies in degree, not in kind, between man and other manifestations of matter."

"Complexity is mistaken for originality; creativeness, free will."

Nebraska Has Acute Shortage Of Nurse Instructors

Burnham Asks School Critics Be Answered

"There is a real need for nurses in the estate of Nebraska to meet the demand—particularly of instructors and supervisors," Miss Blanche Graves reported to members of the Nebraska Council for Better Education Monday.

There are several vacancies for instructors said Miss Graves, director of nursing education and registration. At present, said Miss Graves, there are 6,285 actively registered nurses in Nebraska. She pointed out that fewer have been admitted to schools of nursing this year than last.

Thirty-five representatives of 19 statewide organizations attended the quarterly meeting held at the Cornhusker hotel.

Safety Stressed

George Rotter, state supervisor of conservation education, stressed the fact that "Safety education is everybody's business. Schools alone cannot stress the importance of safety."

Assistant superintendent of Lincoln public schools, Dr. R. L. Fredstrom, speaking on "Attacks on the Public Schools," told the group that schools today are teaching "the three R's" better than ever before, and, contrary to many charges, are not neglecting them.

Dr. Archer Burnham, executive secretary of the Nebraska State Education association, said that critics of public schools have motives other than that of improvement of the schools and should be met with counterattack. Dr. Burnham pointed out, however, that educators welcome "critical attacks" made directly to "legitimate agencies."

Princess Elizabeth, Husband Land In Quebec, Board Train For Month-Long Canada Tour

MONTREAL, Que.—(AP)—Smiling Princess Elizabeth landed here Monday with her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, and boarded her special train for a month-long tour among the people of Canada who one day may come under her rule.

The train moved leisurely through the Quebec countryside for a stop at an unnamed siding Monday night. It will push on to Quebec city Tuesday for the formal beginning of the tour at 8:45 a.m. (CST).

As soon as the formalities of welcome were out of the way the princess' first thought was to call her mother, Queen Elizabeth, to report a smooth, safe flight on the 3,400-mile trip from London and to inquire after the health of her ailing father, King George.

The thousands who gathered at the airport and along the route to the 10-car royal train on a nearby siding, got a sample of the charm which Canadians will see as the party proceeds across the country.

Sun Comes Out

As Elizabeth stepped down the gangplank—amid a jarring 21-gun salute—she looked very much like any other well-groomed young matron. She wore light makeup, a mink jacket, a blue-green wool dress, with low cut V-neck and hatching, a vicegrip wrench, a tall-fitting skirt, a small velvet square, and a hammer.

Carpet Makes It Home

Little Feet Cause You Trouble?

HAVE TROUBLE with tracks? The young stars (or the man around the house) won't leave a trail behind when they hurry in from the great and grimy outdoors, if you're wily in your carpet selection.

For instance, there's more than beauty behind the planning of two-tone Axminster and Wilton carpeting. The over-all effect is one of carved and sculptured design, achieved by using both twist and straight yarns, but maintaining a single color to give the desired impression of more expanded space in small rooms.

Here is a carpet easy to live with! —easy to care for, loomed for enduring service, and a rich addition to your home beauty. Choose from our complete selection of wanted colors:

BIGELOW CHORALE, 12 foot width, 13.35 square yard. If you decide on Wilton, be sure to consider OPAL in Rose, Limestone Green or Beige, 12 foot width, 12.95 square yard . . . or the heavier Wilton, GRANDELLE, in Rose and Beige, 16.95 square yard.

The Face Of Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

LOS ANGELES—We are starting home, and glad of it. A few days of sunshine, smog and eddying currents of people go a long way. There is an unappreciated beauty in the Nebraska scene for those with eyes to see it.

An item in one of the papers out here indicated that California's system of higher education has fallen off in attendance by about 7,000 young men and women, by comparison with a year ago. That holds pretty well toward the national average. At the University of Southern California, and at Berkeley, with all their thousands of undergraduates, the drop is imperceptible. There is only one parking area in Los Angeles where daily there are more automobiles than on the campus of the University of Southern California. It has all of the appearance of an extension of the street where the automobile dealers, handling new and used cars, hold forth with something for everybody's taste and everybody's pocketbook.

The decrease in college population may or may not reflect the draft of military needs on manpower. There is some reason for believing that it does. Generally, public schools and high schools are on the incline in population. It is the smaller higher institutions of learning which have been hardest hit. And if the Korean affair continues or spreads, that tendency will become more marked.

One military establishment after another, mushrooming communities which took on ghost-like qualities at the close of World War II, or newly established training facilities naturally invite thoughts of the future face of America. This nation, which has resolved to make itself militarily strong, a fitting rival for any power in the world, is impressive. It also is awesome in its implications. We are drawing upon resources of timber and metals at a frightful rate. Since 1940 we have utilized more land, more timber, more concrete and more steel for military purposes than during the entire earlier period of American history. In the circumstances there seems to be no escape, and as yet, fortunately, it does not seem to have in any way infringed upon America's great capacity for peaceful living.

There was a surprising note in one of the newspapers out here the other day. It proclaimed with some feeling that California had overcome completely its housing shortage. A surprisingly large number of these wonder cities which have grown by leaps and bounds have resorted to moderate programs of public housing. There was evidence of it in San Francisco. There a section which I remembered as the heart of Chinatown had surrendered to a public housing program. It was long overdue. Several blocks, supposed to be filled with enchantment, actually impressed me as so many rat holes when I had seen them on earlier visits, dirty, smelly and depressing. Before too long they will be replaced with apartment buildings, an improvement upon the old but leaving a lot to be desired. San Francisco, I was told, has a novel method of relieving itself of tumbled-down properties. It simply taxes them out of existence.

Los Angeles, which was an infant long after fire and earthquake hit San Francisco, has not been confronted with the problem of aged buildings. It simply has spread itself over an entire county, reaching out and out in a shining whiteness that is a little bit devastating. There are plenty of "For Rent" or "For Sale" signs both in the downtown sections and in the residential areas. California now has more than 3 1/4 million family dwellings, if it is proper to call a place to hang one's trousers or to place one's head a dwelling. But here is one spot, it appears, where the pressure of available dwelling facilities either is holding rentals steady or forcing them down.

A good many Californians fear the worst and may experience it but not while the military program moves ahead full speed. It is a good bet for those of gambling blood that the newly-acquired importance of Asia will serve as a powerful recruiter for the Pacific seaboard. And in many things it will never be the same for any length of time. It is building an economy of its own—an escape from dependence upon the whims of tourist trade. It has industry and agriculture pulling together, with oil and shipping giving valuable support.

Learning About Security

President Truman should have addressed the remarks he delivered at a press conference last week to the men on Capitol Hill. While insisting that he was as much interested in freedom of information about government as anyone, the president said newspapers and other publications had been careless in publishing material which might prove helpful to America's enemies. He referred specifically to one magazine presentation, dealing with atomic developments, and in a general way to maps relating to military matters.

The president is being a little bit stubborn. There have been times, any newspaper man will admit, when the zeal to present facts to the public may have been carried to an extreme, but those occasions are few and far between. When they have happened the mistake was not deliberate. It was the product of ignorance that what was published could have value abroad.

A great deal of the discussion in congress has gone beyond the channels avoided by the newspapers generally. The temptation to reach out for headlines has been great. Out of the discussion has come a number of valuable suggestions which lend encouragement to the belief that a sound program of information can be outlined without too much effort.

The annual Newspaper week has come and gone, with emphasis where it belongs—on the valiant carrier boys. But this anniversary, unlike others, has been doubly useful in discussions of the role of a free press.

A Guest Editorial

Boyd Von Seggern... 'The Muddy Elkhorn'

Editor's note: This guest editorial is contributed by Boyd Von Seggern, editor and publisher of the West Point Republican. A member of a distinguished newspaper family, Boyd succeeded his late father, Emil, at the helm of the Republican. His column today deals with a pressing problem affecting the fortunes of northeast Nebraska.

There is a moot question in this lush valley, leading men into quandaries of uncertain depth. Their efforts to foil nature and lead the muddy Elkhorn river down rigid lines not only ensnare them in a channelling problem but also cause them to wonder if they have created a Frankensteins which will draw vital table waters from beneath the broad valley floor that has beckoned agriculturalists for nearly a century.

From Stanton past Pilger, Wisner, Beemer and West Point, great shovels have rooted the earth down to the Dodge county line in attempts to stem floods and keep rich farm land from being devoured. Speed of flow has been doubled and the churning waters scour out a sandy river bed which now is being deposited north of Scribner, implying that the channel must be extended. As the channel deepens, ponds and lakes drop. Whether this will become detrimental cannot be decided for a decade or two.

Since the ice age, it has been difficult for the Elkhorn to make up her mind just how she is going to travel down this valley which slopes gently to the horizons. Starting from the lower side of a Rock county watershed that drains into the northern slopes into the Niobrara, the Elkhorn river snakes wildly in an ever changing course while it drops only 950 feet throughout its length. Every community has named a "horse-shoe lake" for one of the loops left by this uncertain river as it weaves new routes and produces great scars in its wanderings. Men have undertaken something when they try to make her walk a straight line.

Perhaps it will turn out all right. The Elkhorn skirts over what geologists assert are the greatest water-bearing gravel beds in the world. Up and down its course huge pumps spew thousands of tons of gravel to the surface. If the table water doesn't drop much, the luxuriant Elkhorn valley will retain its beauty, its agricultural wealth and its repose for the kind of sanctuary that gave it its name.

The Nelighs and Bruners, the Beemers and Wisners, the staunch men and women of several nationalities who pushed up this valley nearly a hundred years ago in search of bounteous livelihood, have left new generations of ambitious peoples who have turned it into big business. They need the Elkhorn river as much as they need their REA power and their good roads. Through more intelligent handling of the soil, they contrive to hold water away from the river, but proper drainage of the basin must handle 30 inches of rainfall.

There is something mighty big to preserve in the Elkhorn valley. Some look to the uplifted arms of verdure that now is ripening into another bumper corn crop; some reflect upon the wide acres of nutritious alfalfa hay that feed the cavernous cauldrons of numerous dehydrating plants; some think in terms of thousands of cattle lots each handling from a dozen to 3,000 head of fancy beesves and demanding more corn than even this rich valley can deliver.

Whether or not the stream eventually is controlled, it remains that when Settler Benjamin B. Moore pressed northwestward from the old fort at Fontenelle in 1857, he forged the then clear waters of the Elkhorn river and made a decision that will hold up for all time.

Found: A Seamount

Scientists have reported the discovery of a huge mountain rising from the floor of the Pacific ocean, claiming that it is probably the largest seamount in the world. They state that it is 18 miles across at its base and rises 11,400 feet.

Unfortunately, it will never become a tourist attraction. The scientists added that the top is about a mile under the surface of the ocean.

A Bouncing Statement

The president of a large rubber company, John C. Collyer, observed the other day that the rubber industry in the United States is "completely socialized," but even for a rubber man that seems like stretching a point.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Eisenhower Will Run, Close Friend Claims

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—George Allen, the former White House jester, is now about the closest man to General Eisenhower. It was Allen who acted as liaison between Truman and Eisenhower to make sure Ike didn't get into the race as a democrat in 1948.

Today, Allen, though a Mississippi democrat, says that Ike is sure to run as a republican.

Talking to a friend recently, Allen predicted: "What Ike will do will be exactly what Roosevelt did at Chicago in 1932. He'll hop on a plane and fly straight to the convention."

"How's he going to fly from Paris to Chicago when he's under orders from his commander-in-chief to do a job in Paris?" asked the friend.

"Don't be foolish," shot back the former White House jester. "That's what the commander-in-chief going to do about it!"

CENSORSHIP

Inside fact about the president's long press conference lecture about protecting U.S. secrets was that his immediate advisers didn't want him to make it. They know public reaction would be bad.

However, the defense department, central intelligence and others in charge of military security urged the president not only to issue his censorship order but back it up—in part to keep the military from setting U.S. policy.

Time after time, high generals or admirals have barged in on civilian policy or disclosed secrets which caused serious damage.

Most important was the release of the Smythe report on atomic energy by Gen. Leslie Groves. A few hours after the report was sent to several thousand newspapers, horrified scientists protested to the army that the report contained vital secrets by which an astute scientist could piece together the know-how for making the A-bomb. Hurriedly, Groves demanded that the report be removed.

"That," replied a member of his staff, "would be like trying to put an egg back into a chicken."

Newsmen, not being technicians, had no way of knowing the significance of the Smythe report's complicated wording.

Another military boner which played into Moscow's hands was the statement by Gen. Orville Anderson, commander of the air war college at Montgomery, Ala., that the United States wanted a preventative war. It was necessary for the air force to relieve General Anderson in order to demonstrate this was not our real foreign policy.

NOTE—Or Mr. Truman's desk this summer was one of our newest secret weapons, a guided missile. Proudly he demonstrated it to many callers, told about its accuracy against enemy planes. No restriction of secrecy was placed upon those with whom he talked.

Morale Of Red Troops In Korea Slipping

Big Guns Of Allies Speed Desertions

Main Core Of Loyal Communists, However Still Dies Willingly

BY RAFAEL STEINBERG
ON THE KOREAN FRONT—(Tuesday)—(INS)—Heavy communist losses and the constant pounding of allied big guns are slowly chipping away at the once excellent morale of the North Korean and Chinese soldiers fighting in Korea.

Every day North Korean deserters find their way to United Nations lines with their hands in the air, confident that they will get good treatment from the allies.

The deserters are men tired of war and unconvinced that the communist regime is worth their lives. But there is strong evidence that the central core loyal communists are still fighting and sacrificing willingly.

Read U.N. Leaflets

Some of the deserters have obviously read United Nations leaflets or heard broadcasts and carefully planned their escape.

And a lot of them had to fight as hard to surrender as they fought on the front.

Five North Koreans were caught by front line communist troops as they tried to cross no-man's land and were marched toward the rear to be shot. But they managed to kill their guard and turned around more. The second time they made it.

A Chinese officer surrendered because he wanted a medical discharge and could not get it.

Kills Three-Man Patrol
Another Chinese said he had started out with another man to surrender, but a patrol had stopped them. The patrol killed his fellow deserter, but he wiped out the entire three-man patrol and escaped.

Former ROK soldiers impressed into North Korean service are perhaps the most numerous among the deserters from communist ranks. Some of these bring secret red documents out with them.

Many of the Koreans who deserted, according to allied officers, resent the presence of Chinese in their country and are fearful of Chinese dominance.

Some of the Chinese who give up think they have no business in Korea and say the Koreans should solve their problems themselves.

All of them want to avoid a winter in the foxholes. All of them want the war to be over. Discouraged over the chances of the Kae-song talks, they are taking the easy way out.

By-products of the Pribilof islands' fur-sealing industry returned $122,594 to the U.S. Treasury in the fiscal year 1950.

Thieves Net $380 In Apartment Theft

Thieves broke into the apartment of John Miller above the Burlington roundhouse luncheon room, stealing $380 in cash from a cedar chest.

Miller said the incident occurred Sunday when he was absent "for about 30 minutes." He said the door was unlocked. County Sheriff Merle Karnopp investigated the theft.

In the Lincoln troupe were Two break-ins Saturday, however, netted thieves nothing for their trouble. Millers service station at 320 West O, and T. O. John Farrell and Screen Writer Haas at 500 West O reported the break-ins.

Rise In Nebraska's Water Levels Reflects Wet Year

Sandhills Mark Sets A Record

Water levels in most of Nebraska's observation wells were considerably higher than the average over the last five years, according to a report by the ground water branch of the U. S. geological survey in Lincoln.

Except for local areas where water levels are influenced more by the amount of irrigation water applied to land than by the amount of precipitation received, the report indicated, the water levels in Nebraska have been notably influenced by the abundant precipitation. The report was for the "water year" of Oct. 1, 1950, to Sept. 30, 1951.

At the beginning of the water year, the water levels averaged half a foot higher than in October of 1946, and were somewhat higher than the five-year average. In general, ground water levels rose considerably following the heavy spring rains, and remained high throughout the balance of the water year.

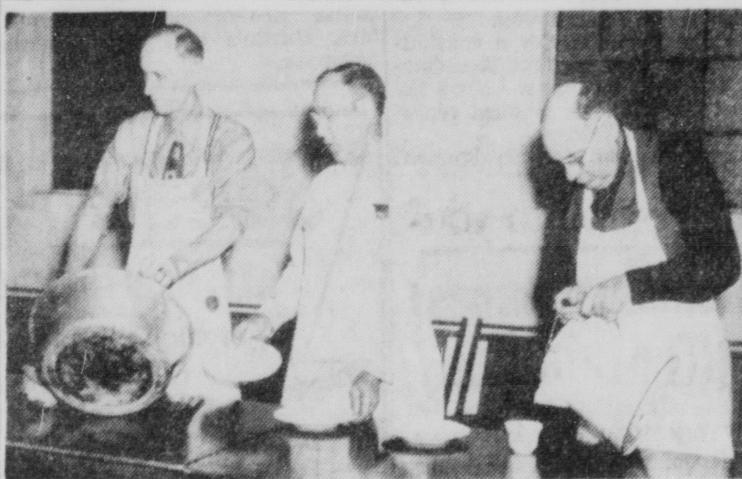

Many Wells Checked

Precipitation was near the record high for the year, the report says, and the summer was cool, with the discharge of ground water by plant transpiration, evaporation and by pumping from irrigation wells less than average. About 250 observation wells in the lower Platte valley were measured during the last water year at bi-monthly intervals.

Water levels in 14 wells in the vicinity of Ainsworth have been observed periodically since the fall of 1947, the report shows, with an average rise of 3.13 feet being recorded for the period of nine months of 1951 has exceeded the average annual rainfall by more than nine inches, according to the survey, and irrigation pumps have generally been idle throughout the 1951 season.

In an observation well in the sandhills region near Wood Lake, the water level has been reported the highest of record on Sept. 12. Records have been kept on the well's water level since 1936.

An average rise of about two feet was reported in the Pumpkin creek area in Morrill and Banner counties during the past year.

Omaha Youth Fatally Hurt

OMAHA—(AP)—Richard Reed, 19, of Omaha died Sunday night when the car he was driving was struck by a train at a Chicago and North Western railway crossing about one mile west of Omaha.

The car was carried 1,400 feet before the engineer, H. C. Lirman of Fremont, could halt his loaded cattle train.

Lirman said he saw the car, but could do nothing to avoid the collision. He related that his train was traveling "exactly 35 miles an hour."

One of these was Sidney, Neb., home of the Sioux ordnance depot. The relaxation was announced in the interest of housing needs for the depot.

In order to get the car off the high railroad grade, it was chained to the locomotive which backed up to the crossing so a tow truck could take the car away.

One of these was Sidney, Neb., home of the Sioux ordnance depot.

Clarence Miles told The Star Monday pumping will be started on the un-proved oil well on his farm near Dawson, Neb., sometime this week.

The well, according to Miles, has been acidized and cemented. Drilling has gone as far as the Hunton strata.

Lt. Ronald Reed, Jet Pilot, Killed

In service for five years, he was stationed at Fort Sumpter, N. C., before going to Japan. Surviving in addition to his mother is a sister, Mrs. Nola Lopes, also of Norfolk.

Her'e why Fordomatic puts them all in the past!

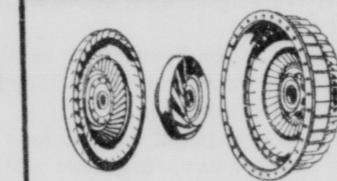

For the past year, automotive writers, engineers and owners have been raving about a new kind of automatic driving ::: and here's why you get it
only in Ford Cars:

All the power you need when you need it is yours with Fordomatic. You'll find it the most thrilling experience you ever had. You'll discover the advantages of having . . . the smooth going that automatic drives employing torque converters can give you...plus the zip, control, and savings that cars with automatic gears can give you.

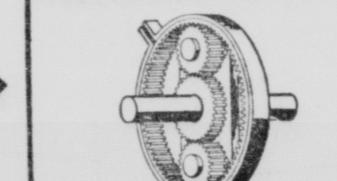

Some automatics have this

The automatic drive some cars offer you is a torque converter which multiplies torque without the use of gears. Its advantage is a smooth flow of power. Its disadvantage is a smaller range of torque multiplication which requires more power from the engine and an uneconomical axle ratio. Naturally this increases operating costs.

Some automatics have this

Other cars offer an automatic drive that uses automatic gears (as illustrated in simplified form at right) instead of a torque converter. The advantage here is more "go," more control and greater economy. The disadvantage is that this system is not as smooth, nor as jerk-free as a torque converter.

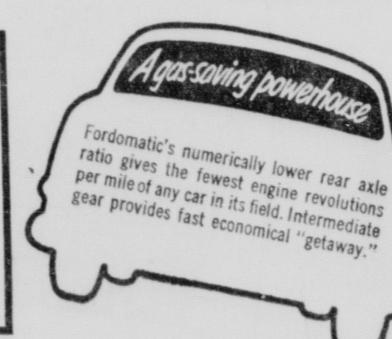

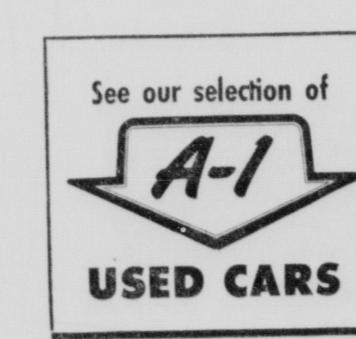

But Fordomatic has both

Yes, Fordomatic has a torque converter plus automatic gears. It brings you only the advantages of both drives and eliminates the disadvantages.

Unlike cars with only a torque converter (which start and cruise all in one drive gear), Fordomatic starts fast and smooth in Intermediate Gear then shifts itself into Drive Gear.

Fordomatic Drive optional on V-8 models of extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.

? WHY SHOULD YOU BOTHER WITH ECONOMICS? .. BECAUSE IT BOTHERS WITH YOU ..

Economics is EVERYBODY'S Business.

In a democracy your opinion counts, whether or not you vote. Mistaken policies on the part of government, reflect mistaken ideas on the part of the people. In these fateful times a knowledge of fundamental economics will help you understand what is happening, and WHY it is happening to you.

It will explain why REAL WAGES tend downward, even while everyone is earning and producing more. It will reveal the part you play in all this.

September Second High Month In '51 For Traffic Deaths

Col. C. J. Sanders of the Nebraska Safety Patrol said September had traffic deaths in the state numbered 36, to make it the second high month of the year thus far. A breakdown of the September toll showed that 20 deaths resulted from two-car collisions, while seven were the result of one-car accidents. Also included were five pedestrians, one bicyclist and three motorists died in railroad crossing accidents.

"These facts," Col. Sanders declared, "should make it obvious that anyone might become the victim of any type of traffic accident.

Unless motorists and pedestrians realize that the added hazards of fall such as football and hunting season traffic and earlier hours of darkness, the final score for 1951 is sure to exceed last year's toll of 306 lives lost on Nebraska highways and even the all time high of 332 in 1947."

Seven Now Are Serving 5-Year Terms In Jail

...Four Jump Bail

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The supreme court Monday denied 11 top U.S. communists another review of their convictions for advocating overthrow of the government.

The highest U.S. court originally upheld the convictions last June. Monday's action winds up the case which was the government's first crackdown on the U.S. communist party.

Seven of the 11 convicted men already are serving five-year jail terms. The four others jumped bail posted by the Civil Rights Congress and thus far have evaded capture despite the biggest manhunt in FBI annals.

The jailed reds are Eugene Dennis, the party's general secretary; John Gates, editor of the communist newspaper, The Daily Worker; John B. Williamson, Jacob Stachel, Benjamin J. Davis, Jr., Irving Potash and Carl Winter.

Council Refuses To Reconsider 48th And A Street Zoning Move

Lincoln's city council voted local business classification before three to four Monday against re-zoning board. The request involves a change to zoning local business of two corners at Forty-eighth and A. The council delayed action on another controversial zoning matter.

The same basic arguments were used on both sides as were put by the council indefinitely postponed before. Proponents of re-consideration claimed the issue had effect and called for a new application to be sent to the zoning to the Hungarian press. A castle in Tihany, formerly belonging to Archduke Joseph of Hapsburg, was kicked around long enough and the applicant was unable to find an answer.

Opponents to the reconsideration voted the council had no legal right to vote on the requested stock and Chauncey W. D. Kinsey, Soviet Embassy.

MOTHER! YOUR FAMILY MAY BE Well-Fed... but Vitamin-Hungry!

Here's why...

No matter how carefully you plan and balance the family diet, the fact remains that often much of the vitamin value of foods is gone before you even buy them. Modern storing, refining, processing do that. And your own cooking helps drain away more of the food's nutritional value.

Do We Have to Die?

Thirty-nine years ago in a hidden Tibet, behind the highest mountains in the world, a young journalist named Edwin J. Dingle found the answer to this question. A great mystic opened his eyes. A great change came over him. He realized the strange power that knowledge gives.

That Power, he says, can transform the life of anyone. Questions, whatever they are, can be answered. The problems of health, death, poverty and wrong, can be solved.

In his own case, he was brought back to splendid health. He acquired wealth, too, as well as world-wide professional recognition.

Thirty-nine years ago, he was sick as a man could be and live. Once his coffin was bought. Years of almost continuous tropical fevers, broken bones, near blindness, privation and danger had made a human wreck of him, physically and mentally.

As a first step in their progress toward the Power that Knowledge gives, Mr. Dingle wants to send readers of this paper a 9,000-word treatise. He says the time is here for it to be released to the Western World, and offers to send it, free of cost or obligation, to sincere readers of this notice. For your free copy, address The Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. B821, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly as only a limited number of the free books have been printed.

was for council approval of a plan calling for the prohibition of any shrubbery growing over two feet high forming a 65-foot triangle at corners. The law was advocated by Osborn to allow a clearer vision for motorists at intersections.

The council took no action on three traffic recommendations submitted by Osborn. Two of them, school crossing signs at Twentieth and A and against parking on Sixteenth from K

Lopat Faces Jansen Today in Fifth Series Game

Reynolds Tops Giants 6-2, With Eight Hits

NEW YORK—(AP)—The New York Yankees will go along with their ace hurler, Eddie Lopat, today in the fifth game of the World Series. He will be opposed by the Giants' 23 game winner, Larry Jansen.

Lopat will go into the game holding a slight edge, having beaten Jansen in the second game of the Series.

BY BOB CONSINE

NEW YORK—(INS)—The Yankees staggered out of their clammy Monday, behind a resurrected Allie Reynolds and Joe DiMaggio, and beat the cocky Giants 6-2 to lock the World Series in a 2-2 tie in games.

Reynolds, beaten in the first game of the series, recaptured in stern measure some of the touch that had given him two no-hitters during the season. But he was wiling on the ropes in the ninth when the Giants scored a run and threatened another miraculous finish until weary Willie Mays, Monday's supreme goat, rolled into his third double play to the anguished scream of 49,010 at the Polo grounds.

The Great DiMaggio, a sorely frustrated figure in the dusk of his career, beckoned to his prime Monday and found it dramatically obedient. Hitless in 12 previous attempts, Joe singled in the third and smacked a tremendous home run in the fifth with Yogi Berra on base to prod the resuscitated American leaguers comfortably out of reach of the Giants.

Sunday's drenching floods, and the 24-hour intermission in this pretty enchanting series, seemed to provide the breathing spell the bewildered Yankees needed in the face of a feverish club that had refused to let down after winning the National league pennant on their over-time.

GIANTS SCORE FIRST

The Giants were first off Monday. The first of Dark's three doubles, a smack off the left field wall with one out, was turned into a run when Irvin singled blisteringly to left. But the rally subsided when Yogi Berra's peg caught the fleet Irvin at second, attempting to steal.

The Yanks tied it at 1-1 in the second and threatened to break the game wide open at that point. Gene Woodling looped a double into left to start the rally. Bobby Thomson kicked Kil McDougald's roller for an error. Bobby Brown's enormous liner to deepest center was turned into a circus catch by Mays, who made a jarring pratfall after catching the ball.

AUTOMATIC OUT

But Joe Collins rammed a single to right, off Maglie, scoring Woodling. Reynolds flied out harmlessly for the second out, and then Hank Bauer slapped one so hard that his own man—McDougald—couldn't get out of the way. It was an automatic third out.

Reynolds broke the tie with his single in the fourth, which came after Brown had singled to deep short and Collins had walked. And DiMag further appeared to have put the game in deep freeze of history when he smote his tremendous Home Run into the upper left field stands in left-center, with Berra, on, in the fifth.

The veteran DiMag, appearing in his 10th series, was given a fine ovation as he jogged around the bases. It was the eighth home run he had hit in Series competition, and it will be duly noted when he is immortalized in baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N. Y.

Reynolds' domination of the Giants was an awe-provoking sight through the middle reaches of the game—and whenever his hand faltered there was usually a double play to steady him.

His side gave him a 6-1 edge in the seventh, off Jones, in

Hornsby New Brownie Pilot

NEW YORK—(AP)—Rogers Hornsby Monday signed a three year contract as Manager of the St. Louis Browns and immediately declared "there'll be some changes made."

And one of the many changes will be "no more clowning." "I take my baseball seriously and if my club is getting beat, I don't want anybody laughing at some clown," said Hornsby.

Hornsby, one of baseball's greatest hitters a quarter of a century ago, was non-committal about the likelihood of trading Ned Garver, the Browns' 20-game winning pitcher. Garver is considered the only Brownie who would attract big offers from other clubs. All of the leading American League clubs would give plenty for him.

"Maybe we don't have much other trading material," said the Rajah, "but maybe the other clubs don't either. We'll do the best we can and I guarantee we'll play interesting baseball."

Garver is considered the only Brownie who would attract big offers from other clubs. All of the leading American League clubs would give plenty for him.

Minden Makes Big Jump Upward In Class B Ratings

Oakland Still Tops In Class C As Cambridge Enters Select 10

BY DON STRASHEIM
(Star Sports Staff Member)

LEADERS In The Star's Class B and C ratings remain the same as last week. However, there was a slight shakeup in the Class B ratings other than the number one position held by Omaha Name.

The Ramblers blasted Iowa Deal 35-0 to remain undefeated through 35 games and hold the first position with little justified opposition from the other rated clubs.

RATED ABOVE

Broken Bow is still rated above Minden because of the earlier games. Minden is very close and is showing improvement and may take over the second slot soon.

David City scalped Crete 27-6 for their fourth straight win and move from the ninth slot to the number four position. This was the biggest change in the ratings.

Lexington walloped a off-and-on Gothenburg club 30-6 to Phil Young's Nebraska City Pioneers are power and deception to move into the sixth rung of the ladder after trouncing Fairbury 34-0.

Bayard, Gothenburg, Falls City and Sidney complete the top ten. Bayard was idle and remained at seventh.

Falls City took a 34-0 beating from a revived Beatrice crew to drop in the ratings.

SIDNEY MOVES UP

Art Bauer's Sidney Maroons got a 7-0 verdict from Pete Beiterman's Mitchell Tigers. The Sidney marker was made in the notch.

Sidney replaces Mitchell in the ratings.

Oakland is still tops in Class C. Coach Kenny Fischer's youngsters had little trouble downing Decatur 35-0.

Rushville was idle to remain at the second peg in the ladder and Oshkosh and West Point both chalked up victories to stay third and fourth.

IN THE MUD

Alex Cochran's ball team at Oshkosh finally pushed across one touchdown in the mud to defeat the ladder after trouncing Fairbury 6-0 Friday.

Pender was West Point's latest victim by the 19-0 score. West Point is surging and will give Oakland a very tough battle when the two clubs meet later in the season.

Taylor was tied by Litchfield to drop them from the ratings. Moving in the top ten is Cambridge after smearing the irregular Beaver City club 34-6.

Gibbon, Grant, Battle Creek, Elwood and Callaway move up a notch.

ELWOOD CLASS C

Grant gave Chappell a 20-0 pasting and Battle Creek blasted Tilden 32-0.

George Bestwick's club at Elwood hung a 20-0 defeat on Oxford and Callaway nudged past Arnold 19-13.

Elwood has moved into the Class C division after having one boy over the Class D limit in school.

Three-Way Tie At KC Open Tourney

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — A mixture of sand trap trouble and a short putt on the final hole landed three players—Cary Middlecoff, Dave Douglas and Dave Ford—in a tie for first place in the $15,000 Kansas City Open Golf tournament at the end of the scheduled 72 holes Monday.

All three players had 72-hole scores of 278 over the 6,500-yard, par 72 Millburn Country Club course. They will tangle in an 18-hole playoff for the top prize money Tuesday.

Old Age Recipients Must Purchase Hunt Permits

Recipients of Old Age Assistance who plan to go hunting this fall in Nebraska must purchase a hunting permit.

L.B. 224 passed by the 1951 session of the State Legislature, exempted Old Age Assistance recipients from purchasing a fishing permit, but not a hunting permit.

Plainsmen Dig In For Rivalry With Hastings

Nebraska Wesleyan's Plainsmen licked their collective wounds Monday and dug in in preparation for Saturday's traditional mix with Hastings college.

The Methodist wounds were more mental than physical, however, after dropping their fourth straight start—the last on a loss that "never should have happened."

Coch Roy Robertson gave no one a reprieve from Monday's light workout as he concentrated on offensive passing drills to keep his charges limbered up.

Robertson also gave the squad a first hand evaluation of their 19-20 loss to Kearney.

The Plainsman boss defended Dick Lewis, his prize fresh running back whose bobble on the Wesleyan five yard line set up the final Kearney touchdown.

NO LATERAL

"Lewis was not attempting a lateral pass," the Methodist mentor explained. "He was simply shifting the slippery ball from his right to his left hand when the ball slipped from his grasp."

Doyle Fyfe, Kearney's big freshman tackle, waged a scrap with Wesleyan's Hanson Taylor for the elusive pigskin and Fyfe got a disputed nod from the referee when the smoke had cleared.

Robertson said he thought the game's turning point came in the second quarter when the rain-soaked leather slipped from Taylor's hands on the Wesleyan 44 yard line where Kearney's Glen Peterson made a brilliant recovery.

That fumble gave Kearney an opportunity to open up with a passing attack for a second score, at a time when our offensive attack was operating smoothly," Robertson explained.

Robertson also revealed that Quarterback Taylor had been given instructions to give the Antelopes an automatic safety on the play after the one during which Lewis lost the ball.

FREE KICK

"This would have given us a 19-15 lead and an opportunity for a free kick from the 20 yard line," Robbie said. Maybe we could have kicked deep into Kearney territory and stalled the game out at midfield. But the play didn't ever come off."

Robertson had high praise for his fast improving eleven which looked like a new team for three full quarters.

He mentioned particularly the running of Dick Lewis, Larry Lewis, Roger Fosbinder, Bill Story, Ronnie Keeler and Taylor and the alert work of End Dave Williams whose 45 yard touchdown scamper with a piffler nullified. Defensive work by Linebacker Walt Garner and tackles Mack Hunt and Bill Barger, all freshmen, also drew comment from Robbie.

"Our offensive line from end to end did the best job of the entire season," Robertson said, "and our backs were off with the snap of the ball."

Capital City Coaches See Rough Week-End Chores

BY WAYNE PANTER

(Star Sports Staff Member)

INCOLN HIGH GRID MENTOR Bill Pfeiff, whose Links have disposed of four of the toughest clubs on their 1951 schedule, wore an air of apprehension Monday.

The reason? Scottsbluff — this Friday's foe.

The Bearcats, a club with

"You must have the desire to block and tackle before you can do it effectively," Northeast Coach Bun Galloway told his Rocket gridders Monday night before they underwent their regular practice.

Galloway was in mind their

"We're playing against Lincoln high last Friday when they were beaten, 26-0. It has been evident, Galloway stated, that they haven't had their hearts in the job before them.

With the return of Howard Trapp to the lineup, the Rockets expect to be at full strength for their conference tilt with Hastings Friday night. This is an important contest for the Black and White, since a win here could put them two games away from the Mid-East crown.

Having downed Beatrice in the first game of the season, only York and Fairbury stand between them and the conference title—provided they take care of the Tigers this week.

"Although the score doesn't indicate it, our game last week was mighty rough on the boys," Cathedral Coach Vince Aldrich said of his Bluebirds' 73-26 win over Axelt.

Taking this into consideration,

Aldrich scheduled only a light practice for the Bluebirds Monday night—one which consisted mostly of running.

They will be tackling their second undefeated team in two weeks Thursday night when they meet the Sacred Heart sextet from Norfolk on the College View field.

Sacred Heart tied Leigh in the season's first encounter and has won its last three games.

It is doubtful whether John Steinauer or Ed Cripe will be available for the game. Steinauer suffered a bruised knee last week and Cripe has been ordered off his feet for a couple of days with a pulled leg muscle.

Aldrich warned that the Sacred Heart crew gave the Bluebirds a rough go last year and have the same team again for this season.

College View 'B' Squad Oust Seward

Two touchdowns and a safety was added in the same quarter Monday afternoon entitled the College View Reserves to a 15-6 yards for a touchdown.

Halfback Chuck Evans picked up the lone Seward tally as he pushed over in the final quarter.

Evens and Potter were the backfield standouts for Seward while Dale Rocker played a heads up ball game in their line.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Then add the other left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message; the letters under the checked figures give you.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

We've got an Atlantic pact flag now to add to the U.N. flag and the Confederate flag which is making a strong comeback... That gives us a total of four and there is some suspicion we are getting banner-balmy.

Kiernan

Most of us can remember back to the days when we used to recite "I Pledge Allegiance to the Flag" and nobody had to add: "The one with the Stars and Stripes, that is."

And they aren't too sure that we're getting all the vigilance we're ostensibly paying for.

Stock Market Has Indecisive Session

NEW YORK — (AP) — Losses outnumbered the gains by a slight margin on the stock exchange Monday in an indecisive session.

The pattern of mixed prices extended into every major group. Changes either way were fractionally in most cases.

The volume hit 1,860,000 shares, compared with 2,070,000 at last Friday's previous full session, as demand spread across various groups.

The Associated Press averages didn't reflect a wholly true picture of the market as the figure for 60 stocks was advanced to 150. New York stock exchange Monday's total was $10,300, a 21-year high. The industrial and utility categories gained 10 cents each while rails remained unchanged.

Tito Says Russian People Will Some Day Rise Up Against Stalin

New Defiance Is Voiced By Slav Premier

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia—(AP)—Premier Marshal Tito predicted Monday that the Russian people one day will cry "stop" to the practices of Stalin and his aides inside the Soviet Union.

Tito addressed a conference of Yugoslav unions at Zagreb. He had returned from a 350-mile journey to Rankovicevo, in southern Serbia.

In his address to some 5,000 persons in the Serbian town he listed the Roman Catholic church as one of Yugoslavia's major enemies in the western world.

In his speech Monday, the Yugoslav premier charged that Russia's leaders are practicing imperialism rather than socialism and are adopting an unhuman attitude toward their working people, using police methods for their "reduction." He continued amid cheers:

"One day the people of the U.S.S.R. will say to Stalin and his companions: 'Stop. We will not permit you to continue like this.'
